

Paul Wilson, BSc(Hons), MSc, CBiol, MSB
Personal Qualifications and Experience

Mr Wilson has been employed as a forensic biologist since 1999. He spent 3 years at Kern County Crime Laboratory, California specialising in cases concerning physical evidence. Mr Wilson was involved in cases dealing primarily with sexual assault and paternity but also gained experience of murder scene examination and drug analysis.

He joined Keith Borer Consultants at the beginning of 2002 and is currently instructed in approximately 90 cases each year. These cases cover a range of forensic biology issues including the DNA profiling of individual recovered stains, interpretation of DNA mixtures, interpretation of body fluid stains and more complicated scene examinations and blood pattern analysis.

He has given expert testimony in Crown Courts (England and Wales, Northern Ireland) and High Court (Scotland).

Mr Wilson has the following qualifications:

- Bachelor of Science (Honours) in Biochemistry with Immunology, 1994
- Master of Science in Forensic Science, 1996
- Chartered Biologist, 2003
- Member of the Society of Biology, 2003

Mr Wilson was a Registered Forensic Practitioner (Blood Patterns, Body Fluids and DNA) up to 31st March 2009 when the register was closed. He has completed a course on statistical analysis in forensic biology. He has also completed a blood pattern analysis course and regularly attends scientific meetings and seminars relevant to forensic biology.
